The case was sent back to the lower court for retrial with instructions to fix damages for lumber removed from Dendy's land.

Gasoline Is Washing Into Sewers

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A lake of high-octane gasoline left by killer floods that knifed through Virginia was being washed into the sewers of south Richmond today.

In devastated portions of Western Virginia flooded by torrential rains brought on by Hurricane Camille, the toll rose Sunday to at least 74 dead, 109 missing and more than $132 million in property damage.

National Guardsmen cordoned off a 29-block area in Richmond Sunday after a leak was discovered in a partially submerged 300,000-gallon gasoline storage tank.

The fuel collected an inch deep on top of muddy river water, trapped in a basin-like depression when the river began to fall.

Firemen began carefully pumping the gasoline into sewers leading to the James.

Food supplies, fresh water and clothing still were being carried to demolished mountain communities in Western Virginia where residents worked to dig out from under tons of mud and tangled debris.

As rescue workers continued to claw through mountain ravines and canyons in their search for the dead, the Coast Guard announced it would take up the search 200 miles downstream.

The Coast Guard planned to search the river as far west as Richmond for bodies that may have washed downstream from the mountains.

In Richmond the river returned virtually to normal Sunday after a record flood crest was recorded Friday.

Advance warning and hastily constructed sandbag dikes helped residents keep damage to a minimum in the city, but merchants along the waterfront reported losses in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The state has been declared a disaster area by President Nixon.

Four Persons Killed on Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons lost their lives in Arkansas during the weekend in accidents on or about the state's highways.

Two of the deaths were drownings involving a Jeep which rolled into a water-filled ditch off U. S. 79 about four miles west of Clarendou.

State Police said the vehicle stalled on the way up an embankment and went into the water.

The victims were identified as 31-year-old Harry Gene Johnson of Clarendon and his son, Mackie Gene Johnson, 7.

A Lewisville youngster was killed when his bicycle ran a stop sign and rolled into a collision with a dump truck, State Police reported.

The boy was identified as Terry Ivy, 11.

Earlier in the death count period, which began at 6 p.m. Friday and expired last midnight, 40-year-old Thomas Mouring of Prairie Grove was killed in a one-vehicle accident near Prairie Grove.

had no jurisdiction to grant the autopsy petition of Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, of New Bedford, Mass.

Flanagan asked for the immediate dismissal of Dinis' petition.

"In opposition," Dinis' assistant, Armand Fernandes Jr., rejected the Koppeche argument.

He said that courts of equity in all state's "have jurisdiction over dead bodies."

"This court has the jurisdiction," he said. "It has the power, even though there was no crime involved and even though the purpose of the autopsy has nothing to do with Pennsylvania."

"This is a complicated legal question and I intend to give it thorough study," Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said.

He promised a decision later this week but said he did not intend to be stampeded into acting hastily.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., had hoped to present autopsy results at an inquest he has set for Sept. 3 in Edgartown, Mass.

Originally Brominski had set today for a hearing on Dinis' petition to have the body examined.

Inside the tube, 750,000 volts will tear atoms apart and send protons speeding into a five-mile-long series of chambers in which their energy levels will be raised to 200 billion volts. The tube is constructed of an epoxy plastic reinforced with PPG fiberglass.

attorney general.

Since Santarelli and a Treasury Department spokesman presented the administration position before a Senate subcommittee July 28, the Treasury Department has also supported moves to exempt .22-caliber rimfire, shotgun and rifle ammunition from the 1968 Gun Control Act.

Although Santarelli declined to discuss the review in detail, his office is confronted with a number of obvious challenges to its position, including the constitutional basis for gun control.

"Registration and licensing proposals represent a distinct departure from previously held concepts of federal controls of sporting firearms and would constitute an unwarranted invasion into the province of state and local governments," Santarelli testified in July.

Eugene T. Rossides, assistant secretary at Treasury—which administers the 1968 act—argued that even present gun control laws are on shaky ground and must be tested in court before further legislation can be considered.

Rossides referred to a 1968 Supreme Court decision declaring that a registration provision in the 1932 National Firearms Act was unconstitutional because it amounted to self-incrimination.

The Eisenhower Commission cited a long list of court cases, including the 1898 high court decision, to back up its assertion that an effective registration law could be written without including any self-incrimination provisions which would void enforcement.

Neither the commission nor administration officials have cited as a barrier to gun legislation the Second Amendment: "A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The commission said the courts have clearly interpreted the amendment as "a prohibition against federal interference with the state militia and not as a guarantee of an individual's right to bear arms."

The Nixon administration and the Eisenhower Commission positions differ in other respects.

On the effect of registration on crime:

Administration—"There is no clear indication that such a program would have a significant impact on the criminal misuse of firearms."

Eisenhower Commission—"An effective national firearms policy would help to reduce gun violence in the United States."

—On the adequacy of present laws:

Administration—"On the basis of seven months experience, the Gun Control Act of 1968 is working reasonably well and is providing the needed support for state and local controls for which it was designed. We respectfully suggest that the controls under the Gun Control Act of 1968 be given a full opportunity to prove their worth."

Commission—"The 1968 act is not designed to affect either the overall size of the tremendous United States gun population which is the legacy of past firearms policies or of the hand-to-hand or 'street' sales of second hand guns."

We conclude that the rising tide of firearms violence in this country merits further legislative action at the present time."

—On the expense of instituting gun registration:

Administration in the national registration of firearms and the federal licensing of gun owners would be an extremely costly undertaking."

Commission—"The staff report said because registration and record-keeping would be financed through fees, the cost "would not be excessive." The commission estimated buying confiscated handguns would cost about $500 million.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's last surviving private eye, "Mannix," will keep his gun loaded and his fists clenched and bare during a season when man-to-man physical confrontations are definitely out of style.

Mike Connors, the star of the CBS series that soon will start its third season, believes that a little action can go a long way but that the audience will feel cheated and unhappy without any.

"There are few enough action series left," he ruminates glumly as he munches a ham and cheese sandwich during a lunch break.

"But we will still have fights when they seem necessary—it is logical when the criminal is going to be apprehended. And we'll have some gun-play, too," Connors blamed pressure from the top for the trend away from violence.

"Sen. Pastore (a critic of TV violence) and a few others are really censoring what you and I are going to see on our television screens," Connors said. "I just don't think that people want it that way."

"We have the very best censoring devices in our own homes. If we don't like what we see on television, we can turn off the set. What I don't like is having someone saying ahead of time what I can see and what I can't."

Connors, in a director's chair on the sidewalk of a mid-Hollywood residential street, paused to open a container of butter-milk.

"I remember when I was growing up and watching John Wayne's wildest fights on the screen," he continued. "He was in good fighting shows about a clean-cut American who was defending the right. He was a strong man."

"If we're going to outlaw violence, let's really do it. Let's get rid of football, boxing, hockey and wrestling. That's all based on violence and most of it, like the blood spilled, is real."

Connors said that of course he believes that television shows should be in good taste—two words which are hard to define—but that he deplores "letting a few men impose their standards and tell you what you can see."

Parents, he said, are responsible for their children's viewing habits. He has two of his own, and said that a routine question from his 10-year-old son and 9-year-old daughter is "Pop, what's the movie? Can I watch it?" He often says no and makes it stick.

"But on the other hand, I don't want my kids to grow up believing that there is nothing destructive in the world. I want them to know that there is good and bad in the world, that you can be hurt physically, that guns can kill you, that drugs are bad for you, that not everyone means well."

ABC had second thoughts about NBC's double specials on Sept. 22, and postponed the premieres of two of its big series, "The Survivors" and "Love, American Style" until Sept. 29. Nobody, not even Lana Turner, wants to battle Bob Hope and two dozen top comedians followed by Flip Wilson.

man and I busied myself with making a home and raising our children.

If the goodness of a husband is to be measured by material things, then I have a wonderful man, but if it is to be measured by how much he gives of himself, I have very little.

Helen, after 12 years of marriage I reached a point where I felt alone whether I was with him or not. No amount of telling him how I felt made any difference. He'd only say, "This is the way I am"—a solid wall of indifference. I involved myself with part time jobs, club activities, college courses, and eight more years passed until I was 41. Then fate stepped in.

After a shopping trip to the city, I decided to stop for a late lunch. A man leaving the restaurant held the door open for me. Yes, it was Bob, and after 23 years we knew each other immediately!

This was the beginning of something that never really ended. We meet whenever his business and my home life allows. We have wonderful times together. We share. We can TALK. We're alive again.

Bob has a home life on a par with mine. We both feel that we cannot base our own happiness on someone else's unhappiness, so we do not ask our mates for divorces. Perhaps we're better mates because life doesn't seem useless any more. Frankly, I doubt that his wife or my husband would care, if they knew: If their routines held, No, this isn't a story book ending, and perhaps it never will be. But I can't feel guilty, nor can Bob. We are just grateful that we have each other. — NEVER FORGOT

Girls Want to Kiss Heart Patient

By EARLEEN FISHER
Associated Press Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "All the girls wanted to kiss me," said Louis B. Russell Jr. after the first anniversary celebration for his new heart.

"I don't know whether this 17-year-old heart had anything to do with this or not," Russell figures he has two birthdays now.

The Indianapolis schoolteacher won't be 45 until April 26, but Sunday was the first anniversary of his heart transplant operation.

"I don't think I've ever had a birthday with this much excitement and this many people," he said Sunday night.

Friends, relatives, people he hadn't seen in a long time and people he'd never seen before dropped in to congratulate him.

"There was a whole slew of them coming in all day long," Russell said.

In an operation at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond on Aug. 24, 1968, Russell received the heart of a youth who died of a gunshot wound.

The death of Dr. Philip Blair, a retired South African dentist, left Russell the world's second longest surviving heart transplant recipient. A French priest, the Rev. Charles Boulogne, 56, is the world's longest surviving.

Russell said the death of Blair "was just something that makes you think."

"It's like this. I drive a Pontiac and if word got out that something went wrong with that year's Pontiac, I'd think about it, too," Russell said.

Miss Kusama, who previously staged nude "happenings" on Wall Street and near the United Nations, said the museum was a place where "you can take off your clothes in good company."

And so her accomplices did, as 200 visitors and an astonished security guard looked on in apparent shock.

"The place isn't made for people," said James Golata, as he climbed barefoot atop Malliol's "Girl Washing Her Hair," a bronze nude. "The guards won't even let anyone take off their shoes and dunk their feet in the pool."

As the eight nudes stood in the pool and mimicked their stone and metal companions, chief security officer Roy Williams pleaded with them to get dressed. But the young people held their poses.

Miss Kusama said the display had a serious purpose—to protest what she called the museum's lack of modernity. She called it a "mausoleum of modern art" and asked:

"What's modern there? I don't see it. Van Gogh, Cezanne, these other ghosts all are dead or dying. While the dead show dead art, the living artists die."

Williams, after 20 minutes, convinced the nudes to dress and leave. As he escorted them from the enclosed garden on West 54th Street, he warned them never to return.

Thoses Nudes Museum Were Not Just Art

NEW YORK (AP) — The nudes at the Museum of Modern Art on Sunday were not just paintings and statues.

Six young women and two men shed their clothes and frolicked in the sunny museum garden among larger-than-life nude statues.

The bare romp, staged by Kayoi Kusama, a 29-year-old Japanese sculptress, took museum officials by surprise.

Miss Kusama, who previously staged nude "happenings" on Wall Street and near the United Nations, said the museum was a place where "you can take off your clothes in good company."

And so her accomplices did, as 200 visitors and an astonished security guard looked on in apparent shock.

Giants Find Handle to First Place

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Surprise, surprise, The San Francisco Giants, perennial bridesmaids, are not wedded to second place.

The Giants, National League runners-up for four straight seasons, find themselves in first place in the red hot West division today. That's what winning will do for you.

San Francisco climbed into the top spot with a 6-4 decision over Montreal Sunday—its fourth straight victory—as Bob Bonds drove in three runs, Willie McCovey ran his RBI total to an even 100 and Juan Marichal won his 15th game.

Still the Giants needed help to move to the top. And they got it from New York and Pittsburgh. The Mets completed a three-game sweep from Los Angeles, beating the Dodgers 7-4, and Pittsburgh slugged Cincinnati 9-4.

Atlanta kept pace with a 14-inning 4-1 decision over St. Louis and Houston split with Chicago, losing 10-9 before winning 3-2. Philadelphia tripped San Diego 6-4 in Sunday's other National League action.

That left the Giants on top, one half game up on Atlanta, one ahead of both Los Angeles and Cincinnati and 2½ in front of Houston.

In the American League, Chicago downed Boston 3-1, Minnesota blanked New York 1-0, Washington whacked Kansas City 10-3, California tripped Detroit 5-2, Oakland rapped Baltimore 9-0 and 9-8 in 18 innings and Cleveland took Seattle 6-5.

Bonds hit his 25th homer and McCovey tagged his 39th as the Giants wiped out an early 2-0 Expo lead.

The Giants were leading 4-2 when Montreal strafed Marichal for four runs in the eighth, tying the score. But San Francisco bounced right back.

Don Mason opened the ninth with a single, moved up on a wild pitch and scored the tie-breaking run on Ron Hunt's double. Then a sacrifice and Bonds' fly ball brought Hunt home with an insurance run.

Meanwhile, the Mets punished the Dodgers with Ron Swoboda's bases-loaded double chasing home three runs in the seventh inning and turning the game around. Singles by Cleon Jones and Art Shamsky and a bunt single by Ken Boswell had loaded the bases for Swoboda, who had driven in another run with a bases-loaded walk earlier.

Wes Parker homered for the Dodgers, who dropped their fourth straight. The victory gave the Mets 11 triumphs in 12 tries against the Giants and Dodgers in New York this season.

The red-hot Pirates stretched their winning string to eight games by pounding Cincinnati and tagging the Reds with their fourth straight setback.

Gene Alley rapped an inside-the-park homer and Willie Stargell tagged one of the conventional kind, leading the Pirate attack. Alley has hit all of his six homers in the last 10 days, five of them against the Reds.

Hank Aaron unloaded his 34th homer of the season, breaking a 14th-inning tie and giving Atlanta its victory over St. Louis. Aaron connected with two out, rewarding four innings of one-hit relief by George Stone, who started the Braves' winning rally with a single.

Orlando Cepeda tied it for Atlanta in the eighth with his 20th home run of the year and fourth against the Cardinals, his teammates.

Ernie Banks ripped a pair of homers, running his career total to 493 and leading the Cubs past

Jets Hear Big Blast of Chiefs

By ROBERT MOORE

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Jets, pro football kings of 1968, visit the Oakland Raiders tonight with the big blasts generated Saturday night by the Kansas City Chiefs still ringing in their ears.

The Chiefs bombed the Los Angeles Rams of the National League 42-14 and the Jets, even though this is only the exhibition campaign, undoubtedly are impressed with the belief that Kansas City may be the big hurdle in this year's American League title path and not the Raiders, who won out in the West a year ago.

The Jets have a 2-1 exhibition record, having beaten the College All-Stars and the New York Giants and losing to the St. Louis Cardinals. Oakland has lost all three starts to Kansas City, Baltimore and San Diego, Kansas City defeated the Raiders 23-17 on Aug. 2.

One other game is scheduled tonight. The Detroit Lions play the Boston Patriots in Montreal.

Neither the Lions nor the Patriots are expected to make much noise the coming season but the game has more than passing interest because it introduces American pro football to Canada and Montreal is being eyed as a future expansion site.

The Canadians insist their system of allowing only three downs to make 10 yards instead of four downs makes the game more appealing from the spectators' standpoint. Tonight's game will help determine whether Montreal gets further consideration in expansion plans.

Gerry Snyder, vice chairman of the Montreal executive committee, said today: "As far as we're concerned... if the people of Montreal show their desire they want American pro football, we'll do everything we can to get it for them."

Kansas City's thrashing of the Rams made the loudest noise so far in this aging exhibition season. The Chiefs have won all of their tests and are the only unbeaten AFL club.

President Nixon and 58,305 other spectators watched the Chiefs come from behind twice before they really broke loose and ran roughshod over the Rams. Len Dawson's passes were too much. He pitched a 72-yard strike to Frank Pitts and 33 yards to Gloster Richardson, completing 22 of 32 for 418 yards.

The Rams' Roman Gabriel was no match although he found receivers on 16 of 29 for 205 yards and one touchdown.

In other games Saturday night, the Dallas Cowboys swamped Green Bay 31-13; the Minnesota Vikings routed St. Louis 41-13; the Cleveland Browns and the San Diego Chargers fought to a 19-19 deadlock; the Denver Broncos edged the San Francisco 49ers 19-15; the Pittsburgh Steelers downed the New Orleans Saints 34-24; the Cincinnati Bengals tripped the Miami Dolphins 28-21 and the Washington Redskins ripped the Atlanta Falcons 24-7.

Baltimore beat Buffalo 20-7 and Houston nipped the Chicago Bears 19-17 Friday night.

Speedster Bob Hayes was the star for Dallas against Green Bay. He leaped between two clinging Packer backs with one of Craig Morton's passes in the fourth period for 18 yards and a touchdown. However, a 58-yard touchdown pass from halfback Danny Reeves to Lance Rentzel touched off the Cowboys' offensive fire in the second period.

Minnesota blended Gary Cuozzo's fine passing with a furious ground attack to crush the Cardinals. Cuozzo threw two payoff passes, Fred Cox contributed two field goals, Gary Larson recovered an end zone fumble and Clinton Jones and Bill Brown tallied on ground jobs.

Pete Liske, a refugee from Canadian football, tossed his first touchdown pass in AFL play and Bobby Howfield connected on four field goals in Denver's victory over the 49ers.

Dick Shiner led Pittsburgh to its conquest of New Orleans by firing two touchdown passes. Four pass interceptions that resulted in touchdowns sparked the Cincinnati triumph over Miami.

Sonny Jurgensen, passing with midseason form, heaved for two touchdowns in Washington's verdict over Atlanta.

Juan of Arc was 19 years old when she died.

Reggie Puts End to That Nonsense

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

A good roommate covers for you when the manager pulls a sudden bed check, but doesn't snore and lets you sleep late. Reggie Jackson goes it one better. He hits home runs for his roommate.

Reggie and the rest of the Oakland Athletics hadn't been doing much of anything lately for Chuck Dobson except making out and the right-hander's last two starts wound up as a no-hitter for Baltimore's Jim Palmer and a one-hitter for Cleveland's Sam McDowell.

Reggie the roommate put an end to that nonsense Sunday, crashing his 44th homer in the first inning and a two-run single in the seventh as Dobson and the A's trimmed the Orioles 9-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

It marked the 11th time Jackson has homered this season in support of Dobson and of those 11 games Dobson has won eight, lost two and had one no-decision.

Jackson drove in four more runs in the nightcap with a three-run homer and a single but the A's had to go 18 innings before Ted Kubiak singled home Danny Cater from second base with the winning run of a 9-8 marathon. Jackson tied the game 8-8 with a ninth-inning single after Jose Tartabull doubled with two out.

The sweep pulled Oakland to within two games of Minnesota, which shaded the New York Yankees 1-0 on an unearned run in the ninth.

Elsewhere, California turned back Detroit 5-2, the Chicago White Sox topped Boston 3-1, Washington clobbered Kansas City 10-3 and Cleveland held off Seattle 6-5, extending the Pilots' losing streak to 10 games, matching the longest in the AL this season by Cleveland and California.

In the National League, San Francisco beat Montreal 6-4, Atlanta took St. Louis 4-1 in 14 innings, Pittsburgh walloped Cincinnati 9-4, the New York Mets whipped Los Angeles 7-4, Houston edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 after losing 10-9 and Philadelphia downed San Diego 6-4.

The A's are battling Minnesota for the flag in the AL West mainly because Jackson started thinking and Dobson stopped.

"He's really concentrating now," says Dobson of Jackson. "He's always thinking about what he's got to do. On the field is where you see the difference—no more throwing the helmet, for instance. He still gets mad, but he's trying not to be a hot-head."

Dobson is 14-10 despite some tough losses. His turnaround came when Manager Hank Bauer told him to "stop trying to pinpoint the ball, if they hit it out, they hit it out."

"I used to go out there and I was King Kong mentally," Dobson recalls. "I'd grimace so hard you could see the veins sticking out in my neck from the stands."

"Now, I don't think, I just do. I just make it a conditioned response."

Jackson's homers left him nine games ahead of Babe Ruth, who hit 60 in 1927, but six behind Roger Maris, who walloped 61 in 1961.

Baltimore's Frank Robinson and Oakland's Danny Cater hit solo homers in the nightcap. Cater scored the winning run after drawing a leadoff walk and taking second on an infield hit by Gene Tenace.

Al Downing, the hard-luck-loser issued two intentional passes to load the bases but George Mitterwald rapped a single to left, only the fourth hit off Downing. Minnesota's Tom Hall also hurled a four-hitter and pitched hitless ball until the sixth.

It was a case of too many Jims for Detroit against California. The Angles' Jim McGlothlin snapped a personal eight-game losing streak with his first victory since June 8 while Jim Fregosi and Jim Spencer delivered

110 Porkers to Report on Friday

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) The Arkansas Razorbacks, 110 strong, will report for football drills Friday.

The Razorbacks will work out twice daily. They will practice in shorts through Labor Day then don pads Sept. 2 to inaugurate heavier work.

Thirty-four of the 51 Razorbacks who lettered last year return, including 15 of the 22 starters on the 10-1 team that whipped Georgia in the Sugar Bowl.

Since the Sugar Bowl victory, 21 players have undergone surgery.

Coach Frank Broyles says one of the first orders of business will be to evaluate progress of those who had surgery and "determine who will be recovered enough to help us."

The 1969 Razorbacks will be a junior team with only 18 seniors on the entire squad, compared to 20 juniors. Two, possibly three sophomores have a chance to crack the starting lineups.

Travelers Remain in First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Arkansas Travelers remained in first place in the Texas League's Eastern Division today, possibly because of a thundershower.

The Arkansas game scheduled against San Antonio in the Texas City Sunday night was rained out.

By being idle, Arkansas maintained its half-game lead over Memphis, which was not scheduled to play.

The games that were completed Sunday night, Albuquerque beat Dallas-Fort Worth 9-5 and Amarillo edged El Paso 2-0. home runs. The triumph moved the Angels into third place in the American League West.

The loser was World Series hero Mickey Lolich, 16-7, who was seeking his 100th major league victory.

George Scott's homer gave Boston a 1-0 lead over Chicago, but the White Sox peeked away with single runs in fourth on Buddy Bradford's grounder, fifth on Bill Melton's single and sixth on a suicide squeeze bunt by Rich Morales.

Jose Santiago, who underwent elbow surgery in April, made his first appearance for the Red Sox since July 18, 1968, pitching a scoreless ninth inning.

Zolfo Versalles and Del Unser had three hits apiece and Versalles and Bernie Allen each drove in three runs as Washington bombed Kansas City.

Ken Harrelson singled in the tie-breaking run in the ninth inning and Tony Horton tripled him home with what proved to be the winner as Cleveland shaded Seattle. All the losers' runs came on homers by Tommy Harper, Greg Goosen and Wayne Comer.

Injuries Are Hitting the Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sportswriter

Last Friday was a bleak day for the Hope Bobcats, as sophomore flanker Tommy Miller suffered a broken ankle in a freak accident during contact drills.

Miller had been listed on the first team of the offensive depth chart, and his speed and receiving will be missed. His leg will be in a cast for at least six weeks, and he probably won't be able to run again for some time after that.

With the squad almost fully exhausted from the hot weather of the week's two-a-days, the coaching staff called off the Saturday afternoon workout after a light drill in shorts that morning.

Coupled with the off day yesterday, the Bobcats should be a bit fresher for today's practices. Also, the first scrimmage action will be under the lights at Hammons Stadium tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

It's hard to believe that the season opens on Friday of next week, but for the players it will be a happy end to the tough preseason ordeal and the beginning of a twelve-game schedule.

Coach Gaylord Solomon has been increasingly pleased over his Bobkittens' efforts over the last week, and the juniors were to dress out in full pads this morning for the first time.

In the 4-AA Western Division lineup, the Bobcats this year will have only four conference games on the twelve-week slate. An advantage is the fact that none of these games will come back to back, occupying the 5th, 7th, 10th and 12th opponents on the schedule.

A disadvantage to that is the fact that three of those four contests will find Hope on the road, with only Camden Lincoln at home. The others, Malvern, Arkadelphia, and Fairview, will play host to the Bobcats, and Hope is the opponent for Malvern's homecoming.

Development Paid Off for Hutchison

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer

Back in February, Pete Hutchison, a Harvard arts graduate, started a crash program to build a Plymouth stock block engine for the United States Auto Club's championship racing circuit.

The aim was to get Plymouth into last May's Indianapolis 500. That goal failed, but Hutchison's development program paid off Sunday when veteran Art Pollard drove the experimental car to victory in a 200-mile race at Dover Downs.

It was Plymouth's first victory ever in a category outside of stock cars, and it was Pollard's second victory of the year. He completed the 200-mile trip over highly banked Dover oval in 6:36.01 for an average speed of 122.261 miles per hour.

The race, witnessed by 17,000 was marred by three spectacular crashes, plus another that occurred during a morning practice session. Two drivers, veteran Lloyd Ruby and Wally Dallenbach, were hospitalized.

Al Unser was leading the race when he lost a wheel in the fourth turn and crashed into the guard rail. Moments later, Mario Andretti collided with another car on the backstretch and wound up against infield fence. Neither he nor Unser was injured.

Second place went to Gordon Johncock, while Roger McCluskey was third, Mike Mosley fourth, Gary Bettenhausen fifth, Rick Muther sixth and Johnny Rutherford seventh.

In other action, Ramo Sott got a break when Benny Parsons' gear box blew at the halfway mark and held on to win the West Virginia 300 at Ona, W. Va. Sott completed the 132-mile American Race Car Association-sanctioned event in 1:48.32 in a 1969 Plymouth. Parsons finished second, just in front of Bobby Watsib, who started from the pole position.

In Weaverville, N.C., Bobby Isaac survived a mid-point collision with Richard Petty and won the Western North Carolina 500 four laps in front of David Pearson. Isaac, in a 1969 Dodge, toured the 250 miles at an average speed of 89.451 miles an hour and notched his 11th NASCAR Grand National victory of the season to lead the circuit.

Coach Makes It Clear About Eagles

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

READING, Pa. (AP) — New Coach Jerry Williams won't talk in terms of wins and losses, but he makes it clear his Philadelphia Eagles are not a 2-12 team, and won't be walked over by any National Football League opponent.

The Eagles were 2-12 last season, with 11 of those defeats coming in succession under the regime of former coach-general manager Joe Kuharich. They were a team low in morale and unsettled by the off-field maneuvering of Jerry Wolman to save his ownership of the team. Wolman sold the team to trucker Leonard Tose for $16 million. Tose fired Kuharich and named former Eagles' star Pete Retzlaff general manager. Retzlaff brought in Williams.

Williams feels his big job is to establish team confidence and morale and healthy discipline.

Williams is concerned about his over-all backfield depth, speed in the offensive line and the defensive secondary. He has Tom Woodeshick, the NFL's third best rusher last year at fullback. Veteran Norm Snead is back to handle the quarterback chores.

After that, the backfield is thin. Halfbacks Harry Wilson, injured most of last season, and Cyril Pinder are being counted upon to help the running game. "If our starting backfield suffers injuries I think the effect will be fairly obvious," Williams observes.

A big lift for the offensive backfield could come from the club's No. 1 draft choice, Leroy Keyes of Purdue. At this point, however, Keyes is a holdout.

The Eagles' offensive line has lost tackle Bob Brown, a perennial all-pro, traded to Los Angeles. Joe Carollo, 265-pound tackle, and Don Chuy, 255-pound guard, obtained in the Brown deal, have looked good in early exhibitions.

The Eagles intercepted only 13 passes last season, eight by the defensive secondary. Williams looks for vast improvement here because of a new concept of defensive line play to keep opposing quarterbacks busy and boost the interception rate. He lists the defensive line as a team strong point.

The over-all offensive hasn't produced much in a pair of early season exhibitions. Williams, however, says, "When you insert a new offense you are going to fall behind the defense in the first part of the season . . . for that reason I'm not discouraged in the lack of offensive potency in the first couple of frames.

Williams makes it no secret, however, that a great deal of the Eagle's success, or lack of it, depends on Snead, who suffered a broken leg in the first exhibition last year, missed four games and never regained his true form. Snead can be one of the best passers in the league.

John Huarte, former Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame, is the second string passer.

The Eagles have strong receivers in Ben Hawkins and Gary Ballman with Harold Jackson obtained from the Los Angeles Rams and rookie Kent Lawrence looking good in training. Fred Hill, rookie Bob Tucker and Jim Kelly are adequate tight ends. The Eagles have speed, but lack size in the receiving corps.

Rookie Bill Bradley from Texas, the Eagles' No. 3 draft choice, apparently has won the punting job. Old reliable Sam Baker, highest scoring active player in the league—second only to the retired Lou Groze on the all-time list—is back to handle the extra point and field goal duties.

The Eagles should better 2-12 and battle for second place in the Capitol Division behind Dallas with Washington and New Orleans.

Shaw Typical of Young Golfing Lions

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw is a blond, smiling young man who is typical of the young lions who are moving into a dominant position in pro golf—a movement that Bobby Stanton says is just beginning.

"There will be even more young players winning next year than this," the slim, 23-year old Australian predicted Sunday after finishing one shot back of Shaw in the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic.

"The younger players practice more," Stanton said. "The older guys are lazy. They don't work as hard at it. If they shoot a 66, that's fine. If they shoot a 76 that's fine, too.

NAACP Against Farnsworth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Jerry D. Jewell, president of the NAACP in Arkansas, has asked Arkansas' two senators by telegram to oppose confirmation of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Haynsworth is a U.S. District Court judge in South Carolina. President Nixon has nominated him for the vacancy on the high court.

Jewell said Haynsworth was a liability the court could not afford and had opposed social progress.

Storm Victims Heartened by Countrymen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thousands of contributions from their countrymen heartened Mississippians today as they continued their fight back from the chaos left by Hurricane Camille.

A telethon originating from Jackson, Miss., had raised an estimated $1.3 million for victims of the storm. This included a pledge of $1,000 from the family of President Richard M. Nixon and the western White House staff and a donation of $100,000 from the business community of St. Petersburg, Fla.

In a call to telethon headquarters, the President described the hurricane as "probably the worst natural disaster we've had in this country."

Comedian Bob Hope was master of ceremonies for the statewide telethon, which also enlisted singer Eddie Arnold, clarinetist Pete Fountain and members of the New Orleans Saints football team.

The American Red Cross, meanwhile, said it needs a minimum of $15 million in donations to meet the cost of emergency aid and recovery help for the hurricane victims. The relief agency had asked for $6 million last week.

Some 69,000 in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Virginia and West Virginia were affected by the hurricane, the agency said and at least 20,000 families would need Red Cross help.

U.S. Army helicopter pilots searched remote parts of the Gulf Coast for inhabitants isolated by the storm.

Officials at 3rd Army headquarters, Ft. McPherson, Ga., reported finding one stranded family of 12 persons near Wiggins, Miss., about 30 miles north of the devastated Gulfport area. The family had been without food or water for two days.

Helicopters flew in enough food for three days for more than 130 isolated refugees found 10 miles south of Poplarville, which is about 40 miles north of the coast.

The exact death toll was confused by a number of conflicting estimates and remained unknown. Gov. John Bell Williams' placed the figure at about 200, reducing his earlier estimate of 300.

Lighted ball parks mean additional hours of light-hearted fun for Arkansas' youngsters. AP&L is always ready to lend technical assistance in designing a properly lighted field or playground. Again, we thought of youngsters when we moved into our new office-service center in Marion last fall. We gave our former office building to Esperanza Trails, a Crittenden County organization sponsoring scouting, historical and educational programs. Young people are Arkansas' future. You'll always find us ready to pitch in to help provide opportunities for our youth to better prepare themselves for striking out on their own. It's just one more way of helping build Arkansas.

FALL IS BEST TIME TO WINTERIZE HOME

By MR. FIX

A seasonal check-up of your house and property is always important, but it is especially so in the fall. Your home faces its worst period in terms of punishment from the weather. Your own comfort, as well as the well being of your property, depends on a thorough fall inspection.

This is the best time of the year for painting. The weather remains comfortable enough to work outdoors but not too hot to be uncomfortable. Wood siding has had a good chance to dry store flat.

Now is the time to clean and inspect the furnace, not the first cold snap. If you are unsure of what to do, call in a heating contractor. On forced-air furnaces, make certain you have a clean filter installed.

Inspect driveway, sidewalks, brick steps, stone foundations for cracks. Make repairs in concrete and mortar before cold weather arrives. Once filled with moisture, the alternate freezing and thawing will make the cracks much larger by the out—unlike the spring, when it may still retain moisture from the previous winter.

Don't neglect fences and trellises. They really need painting more often than your house.

Make roof, gutter and downspout repairs now. Nail down loose or broken roof shingles. Dab nailheads with a bit of roof coating to prevent rust.

Sand and paint rusty spots on gutters and downspouts. Renail hangers so that water flows properly. Clean out leaves and twigs. You will have to do this several times during the fall.

Take down screens and put up storm windows and doors. Check putty around windows. Check calking around frames. Wash windows. Clean and repair screens and time winter is over.

Clean out all loose material from the cracks. Widen them slightly, making them wider at the bottom than at the top. Use ready-mix materials and just mix with water. Mix only what you will need immediately. Keep the patch moist for several days.

Put garden tools away clean and sharp. Scrape off mud and give metal parts a light coating of oil. Hang them up, rather than stacking them in a corner. Drain the garden hose and coil it neatly before storing it.

Before cold weather comes, turn off the water supply to outside faucets. Open and drain the faucets. Calk around the pipes where they come through the siding.

Clean out rubbish, especially in the vicinity of the furnace and heating pipes.

Antibacterial Soap Helpful Acne Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My daughter, 9, has pimples on her forehead. I have used several remedies without any results. Although she doesn't eat much sugar or fats, her skin is very oily. What do you advise?

A—The latest reports on acne indicate that washing the face with an antibacterial soap is an important part of the treatment, especially in persons with oily skin. In addition, the antibiotic, tetracycline, with or without a cortisone-like drug is helpful. This treatment controls but does not cure the condition. Dietary restrictions are of little or no importance.

Q—Last week my daughter, 5, broke out with a rash over most of her body. There were no other symptoms. The doctor said it was caused by a virus. The rash lasted a week, then went away without her having taken anything for it. What kind of virus could have caused it?

A—Children are prone to rashes due to unidentified viruses. In some cases a mild attack of measles, German measles or scarlet fever (not a virus disease) is the cause.

Q—My daughter, 6, has some tiny red spots on her hands and forearms. Could they be anything serious?

A—Your daughter may have a form of purpura due to a deficiency of vitamin C, an allergy or a low blood platelet count. How serious it is would depend on the cause.

Q—My grandson, 3½, has had mastocytosis for two years and it seems to be spreading. Do you know of any cure for this?

A—Mastocytosis, also called urticaria pigmentosa or mast cell disease, is a chronic skin disorder of unknown cause. No effective treatment is known.

Q—Recently several children here became paralyzed from the neck down and died. The diseases mentioned were polio and Guillain-Barre syndrome. Is there any connection between the two? Are they contagious or hereditary? Can they strike both young and old? Is there any cure?

A—Guillain-Barre syndrome is also called polyneuritis or neuritis. It is not contagious but may follow an acute infectious disease (diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid, mumps, influenza, measles, tuberculosis or meningitis). It is not hereditary. It may occur at any age. There is no specific treatment but most children recover after several months.

THE CAT, but who was the canary? The camera catches a very self-satisfied Mai Van Bo, chief North Vietnamese delegate to the Paris talks, during a press conference.

without any aftereffects. The epidemic you refer to was unusually severe.

Obscene Mail Arouses Moral Indignation

By JIM ADAMS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The obscene mail issue has aroused the most moral indignation on Capitol Hill since the big school prayer debate five years ago.

More than 200 anti-obscenity bills have been introduced and congressmen have been introduced and congressmen have given scores of speeches on the subject.

Unlike the 160 bills in 1964 to overturn the Supreme Court's decision on school prayers, there is a good chance one of the proposals to fight smut mail will pass.

None of the 160 prayer bills ever got out of committee, but obscene mail legislation is almost certain to reach a floor vote since sponsors include some committee chairmen. And once a bill gets to the floor, it is expected to sail through.

Constituents are howling, backers say, louder than over any issue since school prayer. The Post Office Department received 234,000 obscene mail complaints last year.

"A California mailer flooded our district with this stuff," said one congressional aide. "It must have hit 150,000 people in our district. And a goodly number of these people started hitting us. So, now we're trying to do some hitting ourselves."

Almost all of the bills are aimed at halting obscene mail to youngsters or to adults who don't want to receive it.

One, perhaps embarrassing, aspect is the courts' insistence that such measures state clearly just what is proscribed. The result is graphic language in bills which might not pass an obscenity test themselves.

The bluntest and shortest of these bills was introduced by Rep. Jack B. Brooks D-Texas, who says the big problem lies in obscene illustrations in unsolicited advertising.

Brooks' bill would prohibit mailing unsolicited advertisements that contain "any illustration which depicts in whole or in part the genitals of the human body, or any act of sodomy, masturbation, homosexuality, sexual intercourse, sadism or masochism."

Critics say this could outlaw mailed advertisements for Renaissance prints or medical journals.

A bill by Chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., of the House Post Office Committee would outlaw mailing of pictures or word descriptions of things "designed primarily to appeal to the prurient interests of the viewer."

Critics of this bill say the "prurient interest" clause may be overturned by the courts as too vague. But such a clause hopefully would exclude the Bible, which contains material that otherwise would be illegal under some of the bills.

Bathtub Sailer Crosses Lake Michigan

MANTOWOC, Wis. (AP) — A Michigan father of six has reached Wisconsin safely after sailing his bathtub across Lake Michigan.

Victor Jackson, 32, of East Lansing, Mich., was the object of an air and sea search by the Coast Guard when worried relatives reported him missing.

As Jackson crossed the 65-mile wide lake, a dying battery and a broken antenna left him out of contact with anyone except a ham operator on the Wisconsin shore.

"It's sure nice to see people again, I'll tell you," Jackson shouted to about 200 onlookers as he stepped ashore Sunday night after 14½ hours alone on the lake.

"A couple of times I'd given up hope. I thought you were going to be fishing me out of there tomorrow morning," he said.

"I had less than a pint of gas left. I had troubles all the way; general problems with the motor, my battery quit on me and my main radio mast broke six or eight miles out of Ludington."

Jackson's bathtub—registered in Michigan as a one-passenger pleasure craft—is the common household variety, welded to a frame and supported by four 30-gallon oil drums.

It is equipped with a 20-horsepower outboard motor and nearly $1,000 worth of radio and navigational equipment. He started out with 30 gallons of gas and made it to the Coast Guard lighthouse. But he had to borrow a gallon to sail into the harbor.

March Against Fear Comes to a Close

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The "march against fear" ended on the state Capitol steps Sunday with march leaders urging Negroes to "start being men and not little boys."

Lance "Sweet Willie Wine" Watson, 31, of Memphis, head of a black group called the Invaders, led the 130-mile march which began Wednesday at West Memphis.

At a rally at the Capitol, about 250 persons turned out and Watson told the crowd, "While people are not going to pick leaders for black folks anymore."

He also said that Negroes aren't violent, but he added that, "Our war is right out in these streets."

The originators of a proposed "poor people's march," which has been postponed for 30 days, were the Revs. J. F. Cooley and Cato Brooks, both of Forrest City.

They had worked with Watson in picketing Forrest City stores, but did not join the march and were not at the rally.

Mrs. Cornelia Crenshaw of Memphis who leads a protest in her home city against utility fee increases, read a newspaper article which said Cooley had asked Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for $26,000 to build a church.

"Rockefeller cannot buy all the black people," she said.

Cooley later told newsmen the article was untrue. He said that after his church withdrew from the East Arkansas Presbytery, funds were solicited in several states from numerous organizations, including the Rockefeller Foundation.

However, he said, no specific amount was mentioned, no request was made for money from the governor, and all such solicitations took place before the "poor people's march" was proposed.

"Nobody sold out anything," he said.

He said he was having attorneys to look into the remarks made about him at the rally.

Watson told the Negroes that they need unity, but he also said that there were some "Uncle Toms," and he added, "We know how to deal with Toms."

O. W. Pickett, a staff member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told the rally, "Don't be alarmed. The day is coming when the minds of people will hear your cry. And when they hear your cry, all these 'house niggers' are going to have to go."

Bobby Brown, head of the go.

Bobby Brown, head of the militant Black United Youth organization at Little Rock, praised Watson's walk, and, noting the tight police security, said, "It don't take that for black people to get together and talk."

He said that while Watson's march never attracted many who walked with him, the effect was the same "on them honkies" as if a larger crowd had been marching.

afraid that they all stick together even though some might prefer to go."
The colonel told him: "Leave these men on the hill and take your CP—command post—element and move to the objective."
Then Bacon told his executive officer, Maj. Richard Waite, and one of his seasoned Vietnam veterans, Sgt. Okey Blakenship of Panther, W. Va., to fly from the battalion base "LZ Center" across the valley to talk with the reluctant troops of A Company.
"Give them a pep talk and a kick in the butt," he said.
They found the men bearded and exhausted in the tall blackened elephant grass, their uniforms ripped and caked with dirt.
"One of them was crying," said Blakenship.
Then the soldiers told why they would not move.
"It poured out of them," the sergeant said.
They said they were sick of the endless battling in torrid heat, the constant danger of sudden firefights by day and the mortaring and enemy probing at night. They said they had not enough sleep and that they were being pushed too hard. They hadn't had mail. They hadn't had hot food. They hadn't had the little things that made the war bearable. Helicopters brought in the basic needs of ammunition, food and water at a tremendous risk because of the heavy enemy ground fire. But this was not enough for these men. They believed that they were in danger of annihilation and would go no farther.
Maj. Waite and Sgt. Blakenship heard them out, looking at the soldiers, most of them a generation apart, draftees 19 and 20 with fear in their eyes.
Blakenship, a quick-tempered man, began arguing.
"One of them yelled to me that his company had suffered too much and that it should not have to go on," Blakenship said.
"I answered him that another company was down to 15 men still on the move—and I lied to him—and he asked me, 'Why did they do it?'"
"Maybe they have got something a little more than what you have got," the sergeant replied.

Czech Troops Move in on Rioters

PRAGUE (AP) — Demonstrating that the government is determined to stop anti-Soviet protests in Czechoslovakia, trucks carrying about 800 troops rolled into Prague Sunday night. The troops closed two bridges and took up positions on the west bank of the Vltava River opposite downtown Prague. There were not as many soldiers as were brought into the city last week to control rioting on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

The arrival of the troops apparently was staged to coincide with the end of a football game between two major Czechoslovak teams. The military maneuver kept the crowd of 3,000 from the neighborhood of the Communist party headquarters, which is between the two closed bridges. The crowd appeared quiet and no arrests were noted. Any disturbance in such a crowd would be grounds for arrest under severe new emergency laws promulgated after the violence last week on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion.

After Five Days GI in Battle Can Reach the Breaking Point

By HORST FAAS and PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writers
SONG CHANG VALLEY, Vietnam (AP) — "I am sorry, sir, but my men refused to go—we cannot move out," Lt. Eugene Shurtz Jr. reported to his battalion commander over a crackling field telephone. "A" Company of the 196th Light Infantry Brigade's battle-worn 3rd Battalion had been ordered at dawn Sunday to move once more down the jungled rocky slope of Nui Lon Mountain into a deadly labyrinth of North Vietnamese bunkers and trench lines.

For five days they had obeyed orders to make this push, each time they had been thrown back by the invisible enemy who waited through the rain of bombs and artillery shells for the Americans to come close, then picked them off with deadly crossfire. The battalion commander, Lt. Col. Robert C. Bacon, had been waiting impatiently for A Company to move out. Bacon had taken over the battalion after Lt. Eli P. Howard was killed in a helicopter crash with Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan and six other men. Ever since the crash Tuesday, the battalion had been trying to get to the wreckage. Sunday morning, Bacon was personally leading three of his companies in the assault. He paused as Shurtz matter-of-factly told him that the soldiers of A

Officers identified the three as Marvin Hicks, 17, and Jim Johnson, 19, each of Forrest City, and 17-year-old Maurice Sanford of Detroit, Mich. The police said another young Negro was sought in connection with the charge. A knife was held on the boy and a gun on the girl during the rape, according to accounts reported by police.

Skies should remain clear over Eastern and Central sections of the state through Tuesday while some cloudiness continues over the extreme South and West. High readings over the state Sunday were generally in the 80s. The high was 83 at Memphis. A weak upper air low pressure system over Nebraska is bringing scattered thundershowers activity to the central and southern plains but this precipitation is expected to remain west of Arkansas. Low tonight is expected to be in the 60s and low 70s. Over-night lows included 59 at Fayetteville, 64 at Harrison, 67 at Fort Smith and Little Rock, 68 at El Dorado, Jonesboro, Memphis and Pine Bluff and 71 at Texarkana.

Arguments in Kennedy Autopsy Case

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A judge today took under advisement a move to dismiss a request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., for an autopsy on the body of Mary Joe Kopechne.

The action apparently killed any hope the Massachusetts prosecutor had of presenting autopsy results at an inquest into her death he has scheduled for Sept. 3 in Edgartown, Mass. The 28-year-old Miss Kopechne drowned last month when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., plunged off a narrow bridge on Chappaquiddick Island on the Massachusetts coast. She is buried in nearby Larksville.

Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court said he would take at least 48 hours to rule on the motion by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J., who are opposed to an autopsy. They claimed, through their attorney, that Pennsylvania was without jurisdiction in the matter because "no crime has been committed in Pennsylvania." Brominski also said no date would be set for a hearing on Dinis' original petition until after he had ruled on the Kopechne motion. Dinis had no immediate comment on whether he planned to postpone the inquest.

Court Cases Fewer Than in Years

According to a report released today by William H. Arnold III, of Texarkana, Judge of the 8th Judicial Circuit Court of Arkansas, the current total of cases pending in that court is the least number since statistics were compiled in 1964. During the first six months of 1969, 314 cases were filed in the 8th Judicial Circuit and 472 were terminated in the same period. Expressing satisfaction over the joint efforts of the lawyers, the court personnel, officers of the court, and the jurors, which had resulted in such a fine statistical report, Judge Arnold stated, "The small number of cases pending in the 8th Judicial Circuit reflects a lack of congestion of the docket that cannot be claimed by courts in many states, where cases, sometimes are not brought to trial for as long as four to six years after they are filed." The only cases in the 8th Circuit Court which are delayed for trial other than at the request of litigants or lawyers are Eminent Domain cases which must await certain highway construction to be completed and cannot be brought to trial as quickly as other cases. The 8th Judicial Circuit Court is comprised of Clark, Hempstead, Miller, and Nevada Counties.

Plans Peaceful Coexistence

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — An official of the Committee for Peaceful Coexistence says that picketing of Forrest City stores will be resumed unless demands for more and better jobs are met.

The word came Saturday from the Rev. E. A. Williams, picket leader for the committee. He said plans call for 30 to 35 pickets in front of six stores unless the business leaders are willing to sit and talk. He did not specify which stores would be picketed. The picketing began in June and at one time 10 stores were picketed. There has been no picketing since last Tuesday. Williams said 20 to 25 Negroes had been employed by white merchants since the picketing began.

Green Beret Claims CIA Official Lied

NEW YORK (AP) — A lawyer for three of eight Army Green Berets charged with murdering a Vietnamese, reportedly a double agent, says a Central Intelligence Agency representative "lied" at a pretrial hearing last week to "cover up for his own mistakes and stupidity." "The CIA," said Attorney Henry B. Rothblatt, "distorted information to precipitate the hearing. Then, in cross examination, a representative of the agency was caught in lies and hid behind executive privilege." Rothblatt returned Sunday from Saigon and said he was confident the Army would drop charges against the eight Special Forces members "within a week."

"They just don't have any evidence," he said of the Army. Rothblatt said he could not discuss details of the case because they were classified by the military. The Vietnamese are accused of killing last June 20 was reportedly working for both the CIA and the North Vietnamese. Some sources have said the CIA advised that the man be "eliminated," and that after he was shot and his body dumped into the South China Sea, the CIA rescinded the death order and gave new instructions to spare him.

Administration Takes Review of Policy on Gun Control Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is reviewing the sharp differences between its own position on gun control and the proposals of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

The administration declared its opposition to further gun control legislation last month only four days before the commission, headed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, recommended confiscation of most of the nation's 25 million handguns and gradual state registration and licensing of shotguns and rifles.

Officials decline comment at this stage on the Eisenhower Commission proposal and refuse to speculate on its possible impact on the administration position.

U.S. Seeking Out Enemy Buildup

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force transport planes have flown 18 armored personnel carriers and six antitank guns to the Bu Dop Special Forces camp 80 miles north of Saigon following intelligence reports that enemy armored columns were heard moving along the Cambodian border.

Sources who reported this said they did not know whether anyone had actually seen enemy tanks or armored personnel carriers in the border area.

North Vietnamese troops have used light amphibious tanks to spearhead infantry assaults on isolated American Special Forces camps along the Cambodian and Laotian borders, but these have been much farther north of Saigon. With the enemy's fall campaign going into its third week today, the enemy attacks dropped off 44 per cent last week from the opening week of the campaign, but they were still 68 per cent higher than the year's low, U.S. Command sources said.

But American sources said they anticipate another round of intensified attacks about Sept. 1. One American report summing up the situation from Saigon north to the Cambodian border said: "We feel the enemy has used the period of decreased activity since the peak of action Aug. 11-12 to retrain, pre-

15 Iraqis Executed in Baghdad

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Fifteen Iraqis were executed in Baghdad at dawn today as spies for the United States and Israel, Baghdad Radio reported. Two of them were Jews.

Nine of the men, including the two Jews, were civilians and were hanged in Baghdad's central prison. The rest—a police commissioner and five soldiers—were executed by firing squad, the radio said.

All were tried, convicted and sentenced by Iraq's revolutionary court in secret sessions during the past week.

The executions brought to 51 the total of alleged spies executed in Iraq this year, including 11 Jews.

The Radio did not give any details about the trial beyond saying the victims were proven to have conducted espionage activities for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency and for Israel.

There was no immediate word whether the bodies were put on public display after the executions.

This was done in the first mass execution in Baghdad last January, touching off widespread protests in the West and in Israel because nine Jews were among the group. But with no Jews among subsequent groups executed, there was little stir abroad.

The Jews executed today were identified as Isaac Eliahu Dallah and Haskeel Raphael Yacoub.

The names of three others executed indicated they might have been Christians: Pvt. Auden Hammoush, Moustafak Elias Roman and Sabri Elias Marroudi.

Iraqi newspapers said the executions proved that the Iraqi government is "unshakably bent on cleansing the country of traitors."

After the executions, Baghdad Radio broadcast an appeal to a citizen identified only as A.N. to give fuller information about a spy ring he worked for.

The appeal said: "To A.N. Your letter was received by the council of the revolutionary command. The council promises you full pardon if you turn yourself over to the authorities and give more detailed information about your spy ring which worked for the foreign intelligence service."

It appeared that the military men executed today might have been connected with an attempt to assassinate guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat last month.

A booby-trapped envelope was sent to Arafat but was intercepted. Those responsible for the plot were reported to have included Iraqi and Jordanian soldiers and noncommissioned officers working for Israel.

Law Fails to Uphold Church Symphony

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court said today that it appreciated a Chancery judge's sympathy for the congregation of a church, but that the law did not uphold that sympathy.

The high court reversed a decision from Chancery Court in Columbia County granting a Baptist Church title to land it had inadvertently placed its building on by mistake. Chancellor Claude E. Love had decided to give the church title to an acre of land and the actual owner title to three acres owned by the church, plus $200 damages.

Involved in the litigation were the Greater Damascus Baptist Church and Lewis Dendy. In 1965, the church constructed a building on a one-acre unfenced woodland owned by Dendy who said in court he had told some of the members that they were placing the building on land he owned. The church had owned three acres adjoining Dendy's land.

"We appreciate the chancellor's sympathy over the congregation's unhappy predicament, but the law does not sanction a See LAW FAILS (on page two)
